There was a great improvement in the playing of the New York team in yesierday's game with the Brooklyns on the Polo grounds. Each and everyone of the men tried hard for victory. They had the same pifebing to contest against as they had on Saturday last, but one thing was noticeable, they did not bite at everything that came near the plate. Terry had to put the ball over and the result was the New Yorks did more hitting and did it just at the proper time. The contest was a stubbornly fought battle. Welch was almost invincible, holding his opponents down to three hits. The fielding was marvelous, Denny in the second inning made one of the greatest one-handed running catches ever seen on the grounds, and Hornung size took a fly near the left field fence that appeared almost impossible. BOSTON, Aug. 11.—The streets were flooded with Grand Army men to-day, but they didn't seem to swell the attendance at Brotherhood Fark, where the Boston and Brooklyn clubs met. Still, there was a good growd present. The Bostons were in fine form, and consequently made a perfect show of Ward's men. Daler's left hand curves were puzzling to the visitors, while Bowders was hit with absolute sass. The fielding of both teams was excelent. The only run made by Brooklyn was in the first linning. Ward hit safely for a base, and stole second. On a poor throw by Murphy he reached third. Orr came to his rescue with a clever sacrifice, and Ward trotted home.

"IF HE QUIIS, WE'LL STOP." Manager Ewing and the Officials in Mar

mony-Crane Arrented. Manager Ewing was not in a very amiable frame of mind yesterday. Something was said about him in a daily paper, and from a person whom it was least expected, that made the popular ball player do lots of thinking. The sudden thrust was such a surprise that he at once thought he was in an enemy's camp. That was the impression formed of Ewing's feelings by a Sun reporter after a talk with the New York (P. L.) Club's manager and captain. One thing is certain, the slur thrown out by the paper in question operated against the feelings of Ewing so much that he at the last moment decided not to play. The published matter at which Manager Ewing takes offence was evidently written by a jealous and officious writer. Ewing is called down for meeting John B, Day in Boston, and he is asked furthermore to show his hand-in plainer terms, whether he is for the National plainer terms, whether he is for the National or Players' League.

The Sun reporter found Manager Ewing anxiously looking on at the defeat of his men from the balcony of the club house yesterday. He was in company with Vice-President Talcott, Hoth official and player looked as if something disturbed them greatly. Manager Ewing at once referred to the rather severe and contemptible strictures made upon him and claimed that they were wholly uncalled lor.

and claimed that they were wholly uncalled ior.

"I don't know why I should be attacked in that way," said he. "No man has worked harder or more faithfully for the welfare of the Players' League than I have and I dely any one to point out a case where I have been derelict in my duty. They say some of the team have grievances against me. If so I have not heard a word about it." Here Vice-President Talcott corroborated Ewing by stating that he certainly would know if any of the men had any complaints to make against their manager, but he had not heard of a single instance up to daig.

but he had not heard of a single instance up to date.

"I am told that I should come out flatfooted and state what I intend to do," continued Ewing. "I consider this is impertinent, and it questions my sincerity to the Players' League. If I was approached by an official upon this subject I would be glad to express myself. One thing I will state here, however, and that is, I have been treated in the kindlest manner by all the officers of the New York Club, and I see no reason why I should not be true to them to the end.

"From remarks made, I am as much as told that I shouldn't have anything to say to John B, Day or any other National League official. Well, when that time comes I will step down and out. While in Boston, on the last trip. Mr. Day sent me a very courteque message asking

N. Day or any other National League official. Well, when that time somes I will steen down and out. While in Boston, on the last trip. Mr. Day sent me a very courteous message asking me to see him. I did so. I saw no harm in it, and I would do it again, the same as any gentleman should. There was nothing said between Mr. Day and my-self that the entire public should not know. Mr. Day simply asked me what I thought of the outlook, and my reply was: Your froze out, old man. Now, I don't see where capital can be made out of that, do you? Why, I know that Anson has done the same thing to kelly and myself, and nothing has been said aboutlit."

"Have you fined any men this year?" asked the reporter.

"Yee, a couple," was the reply.

"Too't think so. The two men happen to be among my oldest and truest friends. No, the whole thing about this matter published in the paper is, that it is either a fake or it is the truth. I haven't the slightest idea, however, that it is the latter."

Vice-President Talcott listened to his manager's talk with the reporter with feelings of keen regret. The genial official wished it to be understood that Ewing's management met with the entire satisfaction of the President and other officials of the club, and he could speak authoritatively that Buck would always continue to be in supreme command of the team.

"When Ewing gives up," said Mr. Talcott with some warmth. "we will all stop; that's as sure as you live."

Not withstanding Manager Ewing and Vice-President Talcotts belief that there are no dissensions in the New York Club's ranks, it is claimed to be a fact that several of the dissatisfied members of the team went to a Chicago reporter during the late visit of the team to the Windy City and stated their grievances to him. The reporter was asked to use his influence to have Manager Ewing removed. Ewing's attention was called to this yesterday, and he said he didn't believe it. "It will be a fine state of affairs," said Buck. "when a party of players take it into their head to rebei aga the club house and adopted the following:

A rumor accredited to an unnamed player concerning the fealty of William Ewing to the Brotherhood of Ball Players baving been circulated in a daily new-payer, we, the underskined, members of the New York Players' League Club, deairs to say that any such statement is false and malicious, and does an injustice not alone to Mr. Ewing, but to the organization which he represents. The item published in the same paper that any player of this club desires the release of Mr. Ewing is also untrue. We are not only satisfied that he is true to our cause, but appreciate the hard, honest and remarkable work he has done on and off the field for us this season.

H. Vaughn, G. Hatseid, H. M. O'Day,

In addition to the unfortunate Ewing episode comes the arrest on Sunday morning of Pitcher Ed Crane in McKeon Brothers' salcon, on Third avenue, near 125th street. It appears that a man had been cut in the salcon and a policeman was notified. The latter attempted to arrest the bartender. Timothy Healy, for having the place open on Sunday. Crane protested against the arrest, and the officer said he would collar the heavy-weight twirler of the whore and true him in Crane and true him in the would collar the heavy-weight twirler of the sphere and run him in. Crane said: "If you do I will shoot you." Crane, however, was yanked to the Harlem police station, and gave his name as James E. Hennessy. He refused to give his address. Justice Murray fined him $10 for interfering with an officer.

Henry Stedeker was one of those that thought it was finding money to play Ernest to win and Beia for a place. His experience cost him a cool $900. H. Clay Ditmas won $4.000 on Vendetta. THE BEST HORSES WIN.

Backers of Form Resp a Harvest on the Heights of New Jersey. & The racing was very enjoyable at Guttenburg yesterday. The attendance of regular race-goers was so large that the thirty odd bookmakers had all the business they could attend to, and the mutuals were well patronized. The best horses won in all the races. Falcon, who was fairly well supported in the fifth race at 7 to 1, caused the upset of the day by beating Juggler, Anomaly, and Clay Stockton. Falcon and Anomaly joined in a battle royal at the finish. Falcon beating Anomaly home by a neck, while Juggler, the favorite, finished third, six lengths behind the leaders. Ida Girl, list choice in the field of eleven for the opening dash, won with Long Jack, at her flank. Coldstream, second choice, linished a length behind Long Jack, third, Polydora having the second call in the second race, won handly from Enola, the favorite, by two lengths. Favora a close third. Henry Hardy was backed by the talent all around the ring for the third race, and made a favorite at the close over Ruby Royal and Arizona; he won easily by two lengths from Arizona. Ruby Royal third at Arizona's heels. Eatontown, a 5 to 4 on favorite for the fourth race, won easily by two lengths. Shotovor getting the place by a length from Speedwell. The plunge was on Blackthorn by the talent who wanted to get even in the last race, and the black horse came home a handy winner by three lengths. Marty B. finishing second and The Dotor a poor third. The summaries follow: Falcon, who was fairly well supported in the

of Genevieve, Talks With His Cane. Sanaroga, Aug. 11 .- For an extra day the attendance was fair, and the fields of horses were of good quality for purse races. Betting was brisk on all the races. Only two out of the five fell to favorites, so it was a profitable day for the bookmakers. The opening scramble of five furlongs resulted in a surprise. Rainbow, a 12 to 1 choice, winning the purse. There was a little flurry over a report that a stranger approached Mr. Downing, owner of Genevieve, last evening, and made a proposition to have the filly stiffened. Mr. Downing replied with his cane, and the stranger was only saved from a severe castigation by the interference of friends. Hypocrite was a one-point favorite over King Crab for the second race, but King Crab won as he pleased by four lengths from Hypocrite. Lady Pulsifer losing second place by a neck. Ma Belle was the selection for the third race. She moved to the front in the stretch, and won in a canter by two lengths. Allen Bane, second choice, getting the place half a length in front of Avalon. Worth was first choice for the fourth race, and he brought a lot of money in safely, cross-Foxmede, Princess Limo two lengths behind, third. The grand upset came in the last race. Pullman, a 20 to 1 shot, breaking out in the light at the start, and keeping the lead to the winning line in an exciting inits with Birthday, Pullman winning by a head. SHE BEATS A SMART FLEET OF FORTY-FOOTERS OVER A 25-MILE COURSE.

One of the Best Baces of the Season for the Corinthian Cinb's Prizes-The Minerva Satte a Wonderful Race-August Belmont's Marigutta Scarcely Beaten-A Spanking Breeze on the Run Home, class began their racing this season they have never had such a close and satisfactory con-test as that salled to-day off this place for the Corinthian Yacht Club prizes. The course, an equilateral triangle of 25 miles, 84 miles to a leg, with the start and finish at Brenton's Reef Lightship, was in plain view from Narragansett Pier and Castle Hill, and hundreds gathered on the shore to watch the sport. The new Boston boat Gossoon, owned by the Adams boys, sailed a very close race with Mr. August Belmont, Jr.'s, Mariquita, only beating her 28 seconds; but the honors of the day may be fairly accorded the Minerva. The Moc casin became disabled early in the race and retired. The Tomahawk was entered by her former owner, Mr. Morgan, but Commodore B. W. Crowninshield of Marblehead, who now owns her, was unable to get her into racing trim in time to start to-day, so only seven boats came to the starting line. Several of these had to be towed out, for there was not wind enough to give them steerage until just before the preparatory signal was given at 11:55

NEWPORT, R. L. Aug. 11.-Since the forty-foot

They looked very pretty, these seven racing craft—three black ones, the Minerva, the Moccasin, and Liris; four white ones, the Gossoon, Mariquita, Choctaw, and Ventura. The latter, a new Burgess boat, came on from Boston to try issues with the others. She had her designer on board, but a very small crew, and perhaps that is one reason why she did not get better than fourth place in the race. Harry Haff was at the Mariquita's wheel, and he never salled a better race in his life than this one. Caut. Charles Barr held the Minerva's tiller. The Liris was handled by Mr. Wetmore, the Moccasin by Mr. Morgan, the Ventura by her owner, C. W. H. Foster, and the Choctaw by Mr. Thayer.

It was a close thing between the Gossoon and Mariquita on the first off-shore tack. The Gossoon got away in the lead, but the Mariguita began pointing, and when they and the Liris and the Moccasin tacked for the beach eighteen minutes after the Start the Gossoon was well to windward. The Choctaw's They looked very pretty, these seven racing

At was a close thing between the Gossoon and Mariquita on the first off-shore tack. The Gossoon got away in the lead, but the Mariquita began pointing, and when they and the Liris and the Moccasin tacked for the beach eighteen minutes after the start the Gossoon was well to windward. The Choctaw's crew took in her clubtopsail after starting. The working topsail being set under it no time was lost in changing sails, but the boat was not sailing fast enough tocatch the others. Off Hazzard's Tower the Gossoon, on the port tack standing in shore, was leading, with the Mariquita less than two minutes away on her lee quarter, and the Liris almost in the Mariquita's wake. All three tacked off shore at 12.48 close to the shore and close to each other. The Gossoon made a short hitch in shore about four minutes later. Capt. Adams hoping to be able to fetch the first mark in one stretch on the next starboard tack. He nearly did it, but Haff, by keeping the Mariquita on the off-shore tack, came out by Point Judith, heading up so well for the mark, a buoy with the club flag, which the judges' boat Aquiduck had dropped at 1:15, that she crossed the Gossoon's wake within a dozen lengths, while the Liris, coming up from the eastward on the same tack as the Mariquita, was almost on even terms with her.

"But what's this coming to the south'ard like a steamboat?" asked a committeman on the judges' boat.

"Why, it's that little devil, Minerva." some one said. Sure enough she had loft the Ventura and Choctaw far behind, and now with a working topsail set, she was coming for the mark right on top of the three leaders. The Gossoon had to make a short tack; then she weathered the mark at 1:30:35, just i hour 38 minutes 31 seconds from the start. She had made it in seven tacks and keeping away to about an east southeast course. She set her spinnaker to starboard eleven minutes after rounding the mark.

The Mariquita weathered the mark 59 seconds after the Gossoon, and the Minerva 6 minutes 18 seconds after the Gossoon, landst was the

So the Liris outran them all, beating the Mariquita 18 seconds, the Gossoon 38 seconds, and the Minerva 22 seconds. The Gossoon only beat the Minerva 14 seconds in this work.

and the Minerva 32 seconds. The Gossion only beat the Minerva 14 seconds in this work. Such a race was worth going miles to witness. Inch by inch the Mariquita overhauled the Gossoon, and, more than that, when Harry Haff took in her jibtopsail, while the Liris, just on the Mariquita's weather quarter, was sailing Jaster than any. The Minerva had 6 minutes 36 seconds to spare on account of her handicap start, and if she finished 6 minutes 35 seconds after the Gossoon she was a winner every one believed, but she was just 10 seconds late.

The sloops Thetis and Moccasin, the cutter Huron, and the Herreshoff, cat yawl Clara, and the steam yachts Hauniel, Spray, and Bailymena, with parties on board, came out in time to see the yachts finish. It was a fine race, well sailed, and its results show that the Gossoon, Minerva, Mariquita, and Liris are the fastest boats in the least. The elapsed time from the last mark to the finish was: Gossoon, 48 minutes 25 seconds; Mariquita, 48 minutes 25 seconds; Mariquita, 48 minutes 25 seconds; Liris, 48 minutes 1 second. So the latter reached the fastest beating the Mariquita 24 seconds and the Gossoon 28 seconds. Here is the summary: the summary:

BUFFALO, Aug. 11.-This morning the free fer all trotters were called out to decide the race commenced Saturday, in which Rosalind Wilkes and Pale Alto had two heats each. Among the talent it was the general opinion
